

2022 AACPDM Fred P. Sage Award For the Best Multimedia Education Tool

Submission deadline: March 31, 2022

AWARD INFORMATION AND SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS

About the Award

The AACPDM defines a multimedia education tool as a program, software, audiovisual aid, interactive online module, or a mobile app that displays clinical research or educational materials. Dr. Fred Sage, Past President (1980) of the AACPDM, envisioned the great potential of audio-visual use in medical education. He advocated for ways to popularize this method of teaching, and his interest led to the Fred P. Sage Award for Best Multimedia Education Tool.

The recipient of this award will receive $500 USD and the AACPDM will post and announce the education tool on our website with applicable links.

Submissions for the Fred P. Sage Award are reviewed by the AACPDM Communications Committee. Submissions are judged on quality, clarity, potential impact for the specified audience, and use of media. All applicants must be AACPDM members in good standing.

A complete submission includes the following:

1. Completed application form (pages 2-3)
2. Written abstract of the multimedia education tool, including title, authors' names, primary author's address, full text (250 words or less) and acknowledgements.
3. Copy of your institution's media release form, if applicable.
4. Permission to post a link to the multimedia education tool on the AACPDM website.

All submissions will be considered by the Committee as a resource for the AACPDM website.

Please email completed submissions to: info@aacpdm.org

* If the multimedia educational tool has been created in a language other than English, the applicant must submit a version in English for review purposes only.

Deadline for the 2021 AACPDM Fred P. Sage Award submission is March 31, 2022.

The winner of the Fred P. Sage Award for the Best Multimedia Education Tool will be notified in July.
